This course deals with process-centered approach (scientific thinking), critical approach, critical operation approach at the school level, and the components of each model and its approaches