

This course aims to let the students understand the basic concepts of the curriculum and its components, and how its built, and to know more about different types of the curriculum, also describe its organization, process and type of evaluation.