

This course deals with the importance and role of the theory in guidance and psychological treatment through: Analytic theory, traits theory, rational theory, behavioral theory, chalt theory, the selective approach in the counseling theories, and the applications of the sail theories.